

Athens, March 26, 2015

To whom it may concern,

It was a pleasure to host Dr. Klaudia Bednářová-Gibová at the National and Kapodistrian University of Athens. The lecture she delivered, entitled Comparison of the translation of literary and non-literary text on March 24, 2015, was very well received by students in attendance.

Dr. Klaudia Bednářová-Gibová presented a comprehensive comparative approach to the analysis of different genres, namely, literary and EU texts, a perspective that complemented our students' knowledge of translation-related topics. The content of the talk was timely and on target to make our third-year undergraduate students aware of different techniques and strategies employed in translation. Dr. Klaudia Bednářová-Gibová engaged our students in interesting discussions, asking thought provoking questions, and illustrated her points using clear and easy to understand examples from her published work and various relevant sources. In addition to the scheduled talk, Dr. Klaudia Bednářová-Gibová gave our students the chance to reflect upon translation practices and procedures and discussed with them a number of issues pertaining to translation.

With her professionalism, knowledge and enthusiasm, Dr. Klaudia Bednářová-Gibová made a valuable contribution to our undergraduate studies programme and paved the way for future collaborations.

I look forward to welcoming her back on a future visit to our University.

Yours sincerely,

Dr. Anna Hatzidaki

Lecturer in Psycholinguistics

Confirmation of attendance

March 27, 2015

This is to confirm that Dr. Klaudia Bednářová-Gibová from the University of Presov, Slovakia was invited as a guest lecturer at the Department of English Language and Literature, National and Kapodistrian University of Athens. Dr. Bednářová-Gibová successfully completed the Erasmus Teaching Staff Mobility Programme, as agreed prior to the visit.

On March 24, she gave a three-hour long lecture entitled "Comparison of the translation of literary and non-literary text." The lecture was part of the syllabus of the course "Interlingual Study of English and Greek."

On March 26, she gave a two-hour lecture to our graduate students. Her lecture was entitled "Quo Vadis, English? Past, Present and Future."

On March 27, consultation with students was undertaken for three hours. As this is the time of the year we nominate students to participate in the Erasmus Exchange programme, Dr. Klaudia Bednářová-Gibová was very helpful to provide information on coursework, ECTS, housing, etc.

Thank you for your cooperation.

Sincerely,

Theodora Tsimpouki
