

Biodiversity & Environment is a peer-reviewed scientific journal published by Department of Ecology, University of Prešov, Slovakia. The journal focuses on current theoretical-methodological and practical issues in the fields of biodiversity, ecology, and environmental studies. Currently, the journal comes out twice a year and publishes original scientific works of basic as well as applied research. Biodiversity & Environment accepts the following types of articles:

1. Original scientific and theoretical articles
2. Systematic reviews
3. Short scientific notes
4. Reviews of books and other documents (after prior agreement with the editor and journal editorial board)

PUBLICATION FEES

We do not charge authors for publishing in Biodiversity & Environment.

OPEN ACCESS

Biodiversity & Environment is an open access scientific journal that allows free, unrestricted access to its entire content without any publication restrictions to all users.

SUBMISSION OF MANUSCRIPT

Manuscripts, saved in one of the following formats: DOC, DOCX or RTF, should be submitted to the Biodiversity & Environment editorial office via the e-mail address:

michal.rendos@unipo.sk

Manuscripts submitted for publication in Biodiversity & Environment must not be simultaneously published or submitted for publication to another journal.

MANUSCRIPT STYLE AND FORMAT

Manuscript length

Manuscripts can be of any length. There are no word limits as well as no limits on the number of images and tables.

Language

The manuscript can be written in English, Slovak or Czech.

Font

Use "Times New Roman" font size 12, regular font cut, 2 cm margins, text aligned to the left, single line spacing, no tabs or bullet points. Do not include line numbers and page numbers in the manuscript file.

Scientific nomenclature

Scientific names of all genera and species must be written in italics (e.g., Carabus cancellatus, Carabus sp.).

Abbreviations and units of measurement

Abbreviations must be defined at their first appearance in the text. Try to limit the use of abbreviations to a minimum. Use SI units only (<https://www.bipm.org/en/measurement-units>).

Geographic coordinates

The authors are recommended to provide the geographical coordinates of the studied sites/locations in one of the following formats:

1: 48°59'20"N 21°14'08"E

2: 48°59.35'N 21°14.14'E

3: 48.9891°N 21.2356°E

MANUSCRIPT STRUCTURE

Introductory parts of the manuscript

They include the title of paper, the names of authors along with their affiliations.

Title of the paper: should be informative, comprehensible, and concise

Authors' full names in the following order: author's first name, middle name, and last name

Authors' affiliation in the following order: name of the department, faculty, university, address, city, and country of the author

Corresponding author: an author who submits a manuscript to the editorial office is automatically stated as a corresponding author

Abstract

It should briefly inform about the objectives, methods used, results and conclusions of the study. The length of the abstract, written in English, should not exceed 200 words.

Keywords

A maximum of 6 keywords, written in English, must accurately reflect the field of research to which the paper relates and should not repeat words from the article title.

Introduction

It briefly introduces the topic and describes the objectives of the research presented in the article.

Material and methods

They describe the procedures and details of the experiments that will allow other researchers to replicate the study. This part usually also includes the characteristics of the studied localities.

Results, discussion, conclusion

These sections may stand separately in the text of the manuscript or may be combined (commonly referred to as "Results and Discussion"). Results, Discussion and Conclusion should clearly and concisely describe the results of observations or experiments, the interpretation of the results in relation to previous studies and highlight the most significant conclusions.

If necessary, all the above-mentioned sections of the manuscript can be divided into subsections, each of which must be named with a concise title.

References

Authors are kindly requested to adhere to the following rules for citing literature:

References to published works in the text of the manuscript must be given in the following format: publication of a single author is cited as Mayr 2014 or Mayr (2014), publication of two author as (Fain & Houde 2004), publication of three or more authors (Jarvis et al. 2014).

Two or more references in parentheses should be separated by a semicolon and listed chronologically (Lombert et al. 1984; Fain & Perez 1990; Skoracki et al. 2014). If several publications of the same author published in the same year are cited, individual publications should be indicated by adding the letters a, b, c, etc. (Fain & Perez 1990a, b, c).

In References, the list of cited publications should be listed in alphabetical order in the following formats:

Published articles:

Hernandes FA, Bauchan GR, Ochoa R. 2017. New and little-known feather mites (Acariformes: Astigmata) analysed with low-temperature scanning electron microscopy. International Journal of Acarology 43(7): 499–517.

Accepted, unpublished articles:

As with published articles, however, the page numbers must be replaced with the word "in press".

Online articles:

Houde P, Braun EL, Narula N, Minjares U, Mirarab S. 2019. Phylogenetic signal of indels and the neoavian radiation. Diversity 11: 108.

Books:

Cramp S. 1985. The Birds of the Western Palearctic. Vol. 4. Oxford: Oxford University Press.

Book chapters and conference abstracts:

Pawlaczyk P. 2009. Forest communities. In: Okołów C, Karaś M, Bołbot A, eds. Białowieża National Park. Know it - Understand it - Protect it. Białowieża: Białowieski Park Narodowy, 37–58.

Kronmuller C, Lewis JGE. 2014. On the function of the ultimate legs in some Scolopendridae (Chilopoda, Scolopendromorpha). In: Tuf IH, Tajovský K, eds. 16th International Congress of Myriapodology, Book of Abstracts. Olomouc: Faculty of Science, Palacký University, 43.

Online databases, blogs, and software:

Oboňa J, Mikula P. 2015. Does the length not matter?! [Accessed 31 January 2022]. In: Ecologists notebooks [Internet]. Prešov: Faculty of humanities and natural sciences, University of Prešov. Available from: <https://blog.fhpu.unipo.sk/ecologist>

Pollet M. 2011. Fauna Europaea: Dolichopodidae. [Accessed 8 March 2022]. In: Pape T, Beuk P, eds. Fauna Europaea: Diptera, Brachycera, version 2.4. Available from: <https://fauna-eu.orgsnotebooks/>

StatSoft Inc. 2004. STATISTICA (Data Analysis Software System), Version 7.

Bachelor's, diploma, and PhD. theses:

Scott JJ. 2003. The ecology of the exotic mosquito Ochlerotatus (Finlaya) japonicus japonicus (Theobald 1901) (Diptera: Culicidae) and an examination of its role in the West Nile virus cycle in New Jersey. Dissertation, The State University of New Jersey-New. Available from: <https://www.academia.edu>

Acknowledgment

In this section, acknowledgements can be given to the scientific grants as well as to the persons who were helpful in the research implementation.

Tables and figures

They should provide original information i.e., not to duplicate those mentioned in the text of the manuscript. Each table and figure must have its own concise and informative title which is commonly placed above the table, or below the picture. If necessary, a caption can be placed under the table and figure. It is necessary to refer to each table and figure in the text of the manuscript in the following ways: Table 1, Table 1 and 2, Figure 1, Figure 1–3.

Authors are requested to adhere to the following table formatting:

In tables, we strongly recommend using "Times New Roman" font size 10 without special effects, simple upper and lower table border without additional horizontal or vertical borders (see example below). Formatting table titles, figure titles, and their captions: "Times New Roman" font size 12 without special effects. Each table, along with its title and caption, should be placed at the end of the manuscript file (after References) in the order in which they are cited in the text. Authors are requested to submit high-quality images (min. 1200 dpi for line graphics, min. 600 dpi for grayscale images, and min. 300 dpi for colour images) as a separate file in TIFF or JPEG format. The names and captions of the figures should be stated at the end of the manuscript file after the attached tables, respecting the order of their citation in the text.

Table 1. Distribution and associations of faincoptine genera with orders and families of avian hosts.

Mite species	Host bird species	Host order/family	Occurrence
Calamicoptes hymenopterus (Jones & Gaud, 1962)	Corvus brachyrhynchos Brehm, 1822	Passeriformes: Corvidae	United States
Calamicoptes lomberti Fain & Perez, 1990	Lagopus lagopus Linnaeus, 1758	Galliformes: Phasianidae	Russia
Calamicoptes galli Lombert, Gaud & Lukoschus, 1984	Gallus gallus domesticus Linnaeus, 1758	Galliformes: Phasianidae	Morocco
Calamicoptes zumpti Lombert, Gaud & Lukoschus, 1984	Dicrurus adsimilis (Bechstein, 1794)	Passeriformes: Dicruridae	Botswana

Caption

For easier drafting the manuscript, the authors can directly use a template with predefine formatting available on the journal's website: <http://biodiv-enviro.fhpv.unipo.sk/eng/Pokyny%20pre%20autorov>

Procedure for processing submitted manuscripts

Biodiversity & Environment is a fully peer-reviewed journal. All submitted manuscripts, unless rejected by the editorial board due to obvious deficiencies in style, format, or scholarly quality, are reviewed by two reviewers. Authors should consider all reviewers' recommendations and corrections, as well as the editor's comments.

Authors are invited to propose the names of at least 3 potential reviewers when submitting their manuscript. However, the executive editor reserves the right to select an alternative reviewer to the proposed reviewers.

Proofs

Before an accepted manuscript is published, authors will receive its PDF proof by email. The proof should be checked immediately upon receipt and only essential corrections should be made directly in the received PDF file.

Copyright

By submitting a manuscript, the authors consent to pass the copyright for their article to the publisher upon manuscript acceptance.