OCA16. Anotácia výstupu v anglickom jazyku / Annotation of the output in English<sup>9</sup>  Rozsah do 200 slov / Range up to 200 words	The author examines the motives for the behaviour and actions of Dr. Skreta, the main character of Kundera's novel The Farewell Waltz. The starting point of the novel was the social and political situation in totalitarian Czechoslovakia at the turn of the 1960s and 1970s. He compares it to the situation in the developed western world and comes to a realization that there were many similarities in medicine; however, there were significant differences with regard to external factors. The health care system in western democratic societies were placed in contrast with Czechoslovakia, where a doctor's activities and the system of health care were subordinated to the political, ideological, and social intentions of totalitarian power. In this context, the author has come to the conclusion that Dr. Skreta's motives for acting arose from his moral responsibility for the country's future. Dr. Skreta waged a latent personal "moral war" against the totalitarian regime. This was also reflected in his opposition to the preferred morality of socialist health care professionals. Part of this was his eugenics project. According to the author, in the context of ethics of social consequences, Dr. Skreta was a responsible moral agent seeking a better future not only for the country and its people, but his personal selfish interests.
