VI.5. Účasť na riešení (vedení) najvýznamnejších vedeckých projektov alebo umeleckých projektov za posledných šesť rokov / Participation in conducting (leading) the most important research projects or art projects over the last six years⁸

1.	Dejiny etického myslenia na Slovensku II. (zodpovedný riešiteľ, KEGA 013PU_4/2019). Ethics did not present a fully appreciated field of philosophical thought in Slovakia in the past. In the 19th century ethics has been a part of school education, religious, pedagogical or political framework. A more important development of the ethical thought in the area of Slovakia can be noted since the 1940s. This state has also been reflected in the research of the ethical thought in Slovakia. Certain assumptions or preconditions for such research can be found in the research of Osuský, Münz, Hajko, Dupkala and especially Gluchman. The aim of this project is to prepare a textbook and other handbooks the systematically presenting ethical thinking in Slovakia from the period of the second half of 18th century until 1918. The realization of the project includes also an anthology of the translations of the most significant writings in the field of ethics in the area of Slovakia in the given period. The output of the project will be transformed to e-learning course based on Moodle
2.	Dejiny etického myslenia na Slovensku I. (zodpovedný riešiteľ, KEGA 011PU-4/2015). Ethics did not present a fully appreciated field of philosophical thought in Slovakia in the past. In most cases ethics has been a part of school education, or religious framework. A more important development of the ethical thought in the area of Slovakia can be noted in the 18th Century. This state has also been reflected in the research of the ethical thought in Slovakia. Certain assumptions or preconditions for such research can be found in the research of Osuský and Münz. The aim of this project is to prepare a textbook and other handbooks the systematically presenting ethical thinking in Slovakia from the period of the 16th until the 18th Centuries. The realization of the project includes also an anthology of the translations of the most significant writings in the field of ethics in the area of Slovakia in the given period.
3.	Etika sociálnych dôsledkov v kontexte súčasných etických teórií (zodpovedný riešiteľ, VEGA 1/0629/15). The project aim is to confront the ethics of social consequences as one of the versions of non-utilitarian consequentialism with some present ethical theories, to examine strengths or weaknesses from the viewpoint of the mentioned ethical concept ability to respond the ethical and moral problems of the present. The analysis, comparison and evaluation of the values of the first row (the values of humanity, human dignity, moral human right to life) and the second row within the ethics of social consequences (justice, responsibility, tolerance and duty), including understanding the consequences compared to other ethical theories and their understanding of these values or criteria consequences. Critical area considers the idea of human being as a moral subject within the ethics of social consequences and comparisons with human perception, or persons in the current ethical concepts. It should also be paid attention to questions of origin perception morals and morality, substance of good and evil, etc.
4.	Starostlivosť o seba a jej súčasné implikácie (riešiteľ, APVV-0164-12) The project CARE OF THE SELF: ANCIENT PROBLEMATIZATIONS OF LIFE AND CONTEMPORARY THOUGHT is concerned with the fundamental question of ancient ethics, which got into the centre of attention of contemporary thinkers by the end of 20th century. It is the question of relationship to oneself, i.e. the ways of forming one's self while establishing relationship to others. The care of the self associates all fields of moral thought, not only theoretical questions of ethics, but also practices of the self. http://ff.unipo.sk/sos/introduction/
5.	Reappraising Intellectual Debates on Civic Rights and Democracy in Europe (riešiteľ, COST Action CA 16211 RECAST) Scholars have a political, intellectual responsibility even when doing solely research. To name that double condition, RECAST takes inspiration from Tony Judt's 2008 book Reappraisals: Reflections on the Forgotten Twentieth Century, which is an insightful composition of intellectual, ideological and political history, of moral and political thinking. Civic Rights and Democracy illustrates the strains produced by the universalizing claims of rights, most clearly of human rights, on the national character of democracies. Even though the democratic ideal is formulated in universalist terms, the historical practices of democracy are only achievable in non-universalist conditions. That fundamental tension is epitomized by the predicament of democratic citizenship, whose legal status gives access to universal rights, yet at the same time sets the political boundaries of non-universalist communities. Reappraising Intellectual Debates entails revaluing humanities' and social sciences' contributions to address the challenge. Current debates on the relations of civic rights and democracy in Europe reflect separate lines of scholarly work, which to a great extent reproduce structural political and policy divisions. RECAST seeks to revamp the path connecting intellectual debates, public debates, politics, and policy action. https://www.uma.es/costactionrecast/info/110322/meaning-recast/
